

Dear clients and friends,

When Randy and I established Holt Services in 2007, it was our mission to provide superior drilling services and build long-term working relationships with our clients. It is with that mission in mind that we want to keep you informed on how Holt Services plans to continue to provide you with superior customer service and work to complete your projects on time and safely during this COVID-19 pandemic. We thank you for your support and patience as we navigate together through these challenging times.

Following the guidelines mandated by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and our Governor's office here in Washington state, the services Holt Services, Inc. provides and the employees who provide these services, are without question, part of the workforce defined as "essential critical infrastructure" workers during the COVID-19 response.

Our personnel have the training, experience and personal protective equipment to provide services within the guidelines provided by the Center for Disease Control and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to prevent infection and/or spread of COVID-19.

Holt Services Inc. employees have been instructed to practice social distancing, limit interactions with other individuals, and we're actively encouraging sick employees to stay home. We have put in place strict safeguards following the CDC guidelines to protect our employees and clients and believe we can successfully move forward with our operations, safely and efficiently throughout the western United States.

Your Project Managers are currently working together (though remotely or from a safe distance) to keep jobs running on time, on budget and safely. Please know you can count on your team at Holt Services, Inc. to do what it takes in order to keep all essential drilling projects going at this time.

If you'd like to learn more about what Holt is doing to assist our clients and protect our employees, reach out to your Project Manager or email support@holtservicesinc.com.

Stay Safe, Stay Healthy!
